Emmy-Award Winning Composer/Arranger Hummie Mann to Present Park City Film Music Festival Master Class

PARK CITY, UT—The 2012 Park City Film Music Festival is pleased to announce that two time Emmy-winner and acclaimed composer/arranger Hummie Mann will present three master class sessions for the public during the festival in May. Session I will be May 26, 2012, 2:00 p.m., session II May 27, 11:30 a.m., and session III May 27, 3:00 p.m. All sessions will be held at The Prospector, 2175 Sidwinder Drive, Park City.

Sessions are $50 each or $125 for all three. Registration is open to the public online at <http://www.pcfmf.com/2012seminars.html>, by phone at 435-649-5309 or by mail by sending name, address, phone and email address to PCFMF Seminars, P O Box 354, Park City, Utah 84060, along with a check for $50.00 per session or $125 for all three, made payable to PCCMS.

The seminars will cover such topics as how to compose for film, basic orchestration and composition techniques, as well as information on ways to introduce your music into film and television. Mann has collaborated with some of Hollywood's most celebrated directors in both theatrical and television films. His motion picture projects have ranged from Mel Brooks' "Robin Hood: Men in Tights" to Peter Yates' "Year of the Comet," to the children's film "Thomas and the Magic Railroad," among many others. Mann last presented at the festival in 2007. Other past presenters include Vincent Gillioz, Vince Lauria, and Conrad Pope, who will be honored at the Park City Film Music Festival with the 2012 Distinguished Artist Award. Pope was most recently praised for his score for the film "My Week with Marilyn."
